

bread is more important than anything else. Still others believe that education should aim at making good citizens and good patriots. All these people see only one of the several purposes of education.

In fact education should aim at three things together. It should give men knowledge, make them self-reliant and able to serve others. Education should not produce citizens, who love their own freedom, but take away the freedom of others. It should produce men, who love their own country but who do not want to harm other countries.

- a) What should be the aim of education ?
- b) Do you think "Bread is more important than anything else" and if not, why ?
- c) What kind of men should be produced by education ?
- d) How should a good citizen behave ?
- e)
 - i) Give another word from the passage which means 'aim' ?
 - ii) Which word in the passage means 'independence' ?
 - iii) Write the noun of the word 'believe'.